0425 Birds Nest Vase

15cm(L) x 15cm(W) x 32cm(H)

A really wonderful example of craft and heritage, this handmade Belleek Bird's Nest Vase dates back to the second period (1891-1926). Originally called the Stump Vase, it was unpainted as the Enamel colours were only introduced in the late 1940's.

The central cast piece is modelled on a tree trunk depicting a birds' nest with two little birds at the top. Roses, Daisies and forget me nots are applied on all sides of the tree trunk and painted in pinks with green and brown tinted foliage. This can be used as a vase or displayed as a statement piece in your home.

4287 Hawk

14cm(L) x 11.2cm(W) x 30cm(H)

A new introduction to Belleek, and part of our Heritage Collection is this beautifully hand crafted Bird of Prey, the Irish Hawk. Standing proud with its' fine detailing and a mix of glazed and unglazed areas, this truly is a remarkable piece for your collection.

The Irish Hawk, a creature of ethereal beauty, a majestic being that graces the skies of the emerald hills of Ireland with its presence. Its wings, broad and powerful, stretched out in flight, each feather shimmering with a golden hue.

Whether gliding gracefully on the gentle currents of the Irish breeze or circling above the meadows in a display of divine elegance, The Irish Hawk is a symbol of the untamed beauty of the Irish landscape and the enduring power of love that it bestowed upon those fortunate enough to witness its flight.

0900 Golden Eagle

38.1cm(L) x 55.9cm(W) x 54.6cm(H)

The Belleek Golden Eagle, stands over 21" tall, was commissioned by Belleek Pottery in the 1970's but technical difficulties caused its shelving for over forty years. However with perseverance we have been able to successfully produce this magnificent and striking piece, seen in all its glory.

The Eagle is considered by many to be the King of the Birds. Believed as a symbol for power, action, speed and perception, it has powers of intuition, creativity and can balance power with grace.

The Golden Eagle is native to Asia, Europe and North America it was hunted extensively in the past but gladly now its numbers are rising and has even been successfully re-introduced in parts of Ireland such as the Glenveagh National Park in Co. Donegal.

Also known as 'Hibernia Awakens from her Slumbers' an allegorical piece portraying a serene and beautiful lady "Erin," representing Ireland who is unveiling a vase symbolising the founding of Belleek Pottery to the world. It was designed specially for Belleek Pottery by William Boynton Kirk (1824-1900) a Dublin born sculptor. He studied sculpture at the Royal Dublin Society and exhibited at the Royal Academy.
